Consolidation Order

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A federal judge's order for merger of Richmond schools with those of two adjoining counties was overturned Tuesday by an appeals court which agreed with the Justice Department that the judge overstepped his constitutional authority.

In his eagerness to implement the 14th Amendment by achieving racial balance in the schools, the 4th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals held in a 5-1 decision, District Judge Robert R. Merhige Jr. took insufficient note of "a fundamental principle of federalism" enunciated in the 10th Amendment.

The appeals court said it could find no "invidious discrimination" in the way school systems now are operated in Richmond, whose public schools are 64 per cent black, and in suburban Chesterfield and Henrico counties, where the schools are more than 90 per cent white.

And barring the existence of such discrimination, it said, a judge is without power to "compel one of the states of the Union to restructure its internal government" as a means of achieving racial balance.

Merhige's order would have created a single 700-square-mile, 104,000-pupil metropolitan school district from the three separate jurisdictions, in which 78,000 pupils would have been bused.

Mrs. W. Hamilton Crockett, chairman of the Richmond School Board—which filed the suit that led to Merhige's Jan. 10 consolidation order—said the board would appeal the circuit court ruling immediately to the Supreme Court.

A spokesman for the Department of Justice in Washington hailed the ruling as "what we asked for" in a brief filed earlier this year in support of the state's appeal of Merhige's decision.

Reversal of Merhige's order, on grounds the judge used "erroneous" legal standards in ordering consolidation, was one course of action suggested to the appeals court by Justice earlier this year.

Mail-Order Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The largest seller of mail-order health insurance was accused Tuesday of making high profits at the expense of policyholders, many of them low-income elderly persons.

The chairman of the insurance company, National Liberty Corp., Valley Forge Pa., conceded his firm "is making a substantial profit."

But, added Robert E. Slater, this is because National Liberty has written a great volume of new business recently on which claims have been minimal because of restricted benefits in the first two policy years.

Slater was questioned by the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee in its investigation of health-insurance practices.

Subcommittee figures showed that National Liberty's after-tax profit of 27 per cent on shareholder equity in 1970 was three times that of American Telephone and Telegraph Corp. and the Chase Manhattan Bank.

Asked whether this profit was excessive, Slater replied: "Profit rates are higher on new business than old. As the company matures, I don't think profits will remain as high..."

'Ecological Warfare'

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The United States was assailed at the U.N. environment conference Tuesday by the head of government of the host country for waging "ecological warfare" in Vietnam.

Swedish Premier Olof Palme told delegates from 113 nations meeting in his country's capital: "The immense destruction brought about by indiscriminate bombing, by large-scale use of bulldozers and herbicides is an outrage sometimes described as ecocide which requires urgent international attention."

The conference, however, rejected moves to discuss Vietnam.

Palme did not mention the United States by name, but his reference to U.S. tactics in Vietnam made it clear Washington was his target.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Charles W. Bray said the United States was "deeply disturbed that the Swedish prime minister had in-troducted what we regard as an extraneous matter."

It is "incomprehensible that the head of government of a host state should have spoken as he did," Bray added.

Bray was referring to statements some time ago in which Palme criticized U.S. involvement in the Indochina war.

According to the State Department spokesman, the United States opposed discussion of the environmental effects of American bombing and other actions because they were not on the agenda worked out over past months.

The Southeast Asia conflict also was raised by Tanzanian Minister of Economy W. Chagala, who said the 12-day conference should discuss "the destruction of man in Indochina."

Chagala declared that other vital issues, including racial discrimination in South Africa, must be raised because "environment and man's freedom are inseparable."

Foresee California Primary Victory McGovern Win Expected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

California Democrats voted Tuesday in the presidential primary likely to decide who challenges President Nixon for the White House, and the favored Sen. George McGovern was already at work in the style of a nominee seeking reconciliation with party regulars.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey vowed he would press his presidential quest on to the Democratic National Convention whatever the outcome in California. He acknowledged it would be an uphill fight.

New Jersey, with 109 nominating votes, New Mexico, with 18, and McGovern's South Dakota, with 17, also held presidential primaries.

McGovern forecast victory in all four. He won one as soon as the South Dakota polls opened, since he was unopposed in his home state.

But California, with 271 nominating votes and 5.1 million Democrats, was the real test.

The polls were open from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. EDT and the voting was reported brisk in an election expected to draw at least 3.5 million ballots.

There were eight names on the ballot there, but only two counted: McGovern and Humphrey. The winner takes all in California.

In addition, a write-in campaign was staged for wounded Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace. He had no chance of winning, but his supporters sought a psychological lift anyhow.

McGovern, heavily favored in California public opinion polls, ended his California campaign a bit early to make a stop in Albuquerque, N.M., then fly to Houston, Tex., to confer with Democratic governors critical of his liberal stance and wary of the chances of a ticket headed by the South Dakota senator.

President Nixon, who already has enough delegates for Republican renomination, was getting more in the Tuesday primary states.

But the only GOP question was how many votes his conservative challenger, Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio, would gain in losing in California.

In New Jersey the polls were open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. EDT.

In New Mexico the voting hours were 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. EDT.

The other entries in California were Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, and Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Mayors Sam Yorty of Los Angeles and John V. Lindsay of New York. (Turn To Page 13) (See "McGovern")

Rhodesian Mine Explosion Entombs 468 Underground

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)

A coal mine explosion entombed 468 Rhodesian miners Tuesday. Rescue workers brought out one survivor and three bodies, all Africans, but there was no word on the fate of the remaining 464 men.

An official of the Wankie Colliery in northwestern Rhodesia said: "I think we are just about giving up hope now," but rescue operations continued Tuesday night.

Of those still trapped in the mine, 431 were Africans and 33 were whites. Their deaths would make the blast the worst mining disaster in Rhodesia's history.

Four teams of South African mine rescue teams were scheduled to arrive at the mine, about 200 miles north of Bulawayo, early Wednesday to help the Rhodesian teams.

A company spokesman said the recovered bodies were found more than 300 feet underground. The survivor was taken to a hospital in serious condition.

On the surface the only sign of the disaster was the wreck of a trolley car blown up from the mine. Hundreds of weeping wives and relatives waited at the site.

Four surface workers injured by the explosion were admitted to the mine hospital, but officials did not describe their injuries or say how they were caused.

A spokesman for the Anglo-American Corp., owner of the mine, said no information was available on the cause of the explosion or the extent of the damage. It was believed, however, the explosion was rig-gered by coal gas.

The gas continued to stream from the mine's face area and was hampering rescue operations, a mine official in Salisbury said.

Anglo American assembled rescue teams from its South African operations to fly north to Wankie.

The mine produces about 3½ million tons of coal a year and 400,000 tons of coke, and supplies all Rhodesia's needs. Its main shaft extends three miles along an incline and has a maximum depth of about 1,200 feet.

The world's worst mining disaster occurred in Manchuria in 1942, when 1,572 workers were killed in the Honkeiko colliery. The worst in the United States was on Dec. 6, 1907, when 361 died at Monongah, W. Va.

Report Kontum Cleared Of North Viet Troops

SAIGON (AP) — The vital central highlands provincial capital of Kontum has been completely cleared of enemy troops after 12 days of assaults by North Vietnamese forces, government field officers announced Tuesday.

The U.S. Command announced that American fighter-bombers on Monday launched the most devastating raids on the canals, rivers and lakes of North Vietnam since full-scale retaliatory bombing resumed two months ago. The U.S. planes reported shattering more than 100 supply boats.

U.S. pilots flew more than 220 strikes over the North, concentrating on crippling Hanoi's inland waterway transportation system to prevent war supplies from moving south, officers said. The strikes also knocked out eight bridges scattered across North Vietnam, they added.

The advances in Kontum followed days of probes around three key positions in the town's north and southeast sectors held by the enemy. There were indications snipers remained in an area just north of the airstrip. But South Vietnamese spokesmen in Pleiku reported Kontum cleared of enemy troops by late afternoon.

Government units attacked a Kontum military hospital and the former armored cavalry compound before dawn. Moving behind American air support and ground artillery, they reported killing 166 enemy while suffering one dead and one wounded.

Government spokesman said enemy casualties were so high because "it appeared they didn't want to resist and they ran." Most were killed by pursuing government troops using small arms, he added.

North Vietnamese forces in residential areas of the southeastern part of the town were flushed over the weekend and the last remnants were cleared in the north after five separate skirmishes, officers said.

U.S. sources estimate the Saigon command has lost 1,000 dead and wounded while killing 3,000 to 5,000 North Vietnamese since fighting started in Kontum on May 25.

American B52 bombers and lighter aircraft have steadily battered enemy positions around the town and helicopter gunships were used in the heavy assaults Tuesday, field reports said.

Sporadic enemy pressure continued on highways and fire bases elsewhere in the highlands. Three rounds of fire fell north of the air base at Pleiku, 27 miles below Kontum, but no casualties were reported.

Paratroopers on the northern front above Hue battled a North Vietnamese force of unknown size, killing 35, a spokesman said.

The action took place about a mile south of the My Chanh River defense line, several miles from another fight Monday which killed 27 enemy and two government troops, he reported.

Ground fighting was light elsewhere.

The intensified bombing campaign over North Vietnam was described as successful by one senior U.S. official.

Connally Goes To Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)

Outgoing Treasury Secretary John B. Connally arrived in Caracas Tuesday for talks with President Rafael Caldera on U.S. oil interests. It was the first stop on the retiring Cabinet member's round-the-world mission for President Nixon.

"I hope that the peaceful, profitable friendship between the United States and Venezuela will continue," Connally said, adding he did not come with the specific intent of extending a trade treaty between the two countries. The pact expires June 30.

Leftist students staged recent demonstrations in the capital and security was heavy as Connally landed at Maiquetia Airport on a flight from Washington. Plainclothes policemen and national guardsmen with sub-machine guns patrolled the airport.

The time of Connally's arrival had been kept secret and no welcoming crowds were on hand when the plane touched down. Only American officials greeted him.

Connally will talk to leaders of 15 countries in South America, the Far East, South Asia and Europe during his month-long tour.

The discussions will deal with economic and political problems, but Connally told reporters at the Caracas airport the United States has no plans to increase aid to Latin America.

His talks with Caldera also will cover Venezuela's attempt to get preferential treatment for its exports in the U.S. market. Nixon has refused to grant Venezuela special treatment.

Caldera has increased taxes and imposed production controls on foreign oil companies, mainly American-owned. U.S. oil investment in Venezuela is estimated at $5 billion.

Asked if he thought more U.S. money should be invested in this country, Connally replied:

"I have always seen Venezuela as a good place for foreign investment. I would hope this environment continues. That depends entirely on the Venezuelan government and its policy."

He departs for Colombia on Wednesday.

Laird Hounds Congress For Weapons Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Tuesday he could not support the U.S.-Soviet arms-limitation agreements if Congress rejected funds for a new missile-firing submarine and other U.S. offensive weapons.

"Without the support of the Congress for these offensive strategic systems," Laird told newsmen, "we would place the security of the United States and the safety of our people in jeopardy. And we would be in a position where we could not look forward to success in further negotiations."

Laird said, however, he would not urge President Nixon to withhold final approval of the Moscow agreements until Congress approves money for the new weapons. He said he expects prompt action by Congress on the money.

In other congressional testimony Tuesday, a high-ranking Pentagon official said cuts last year on foreign military aid severely damaged the credibility of the United States.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-

Wis., challenged that assessment and warned the Pentagon to be prepared for further reductions this year.

Lt. Gen. George M. Segouin II, who is deputy assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, asked Proxmire's Appropriations subcommittee to support the full $1.2 billion asked for 1973 for foreign military grants and credit sales.

Last year, the Pentagon's $731.5 million request for foreign military assistance was cut back to just $645 million.

Laird made his comments after testifying behind closed doors to the House Armed Services Committee.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., said he was confident Congress will approve the money for the offensive weapons.

The requests include $645 million for the Trident long-range missile-firing submarines and $445 million for the B-1 bomber.

Laird did not specify what other offensive weapons development he considered essential to U.S. support of the arms-limitations agreements.

Hijack Limousine From Legislators

BELFAST, Northern Ireland

(AP) — Six British legislators investigating Northern Ireland's troubles suffered first-hand experience Tuesday—their car was hijacked at gunpoint.

It happened while the six legislators, all Laborites, were talking inside a citizens' committee headquarters on the Falls Road, heartland of Belfast's Roman Catholic minority.

Three youngsters stuck a gun in the back of the chauffeur and made off with his maroon limousine.

"A depressing thing to happen," said delegation leader Stanley Orme, a frequent Commons speaker on Irish affairs.

Earlier, a British soldier was shot dead in the Catholic Ballymurphy district, a stronghold of the illegal Irish Republican Army.

A spokesman said the victim was one of six men of the Duke of Wellington's Regiment on foot patrol. He was shot through the chest.

He was the 150th person to die this year in the IRA's campaign to merge Northern Ireland with the Irish Republic, and the 358th to die since violence erupted three years ago.

Britain's administration in Northern Ireland, William Whitelaw, ordered the arrest of 75 more men held as suspects in Long Kesh internment camp.

Aides said Whitelaw freed 338 internees from provincial jails.

solved two camp still in internment.

Mexico President Has Own 'Summit'

President Nixon's summit conference with the heads of the Soviet government in Moscow is to be followed hard upon by a mini-meeting with the president of Mexico in Washington.

President Luis Echeverria Alvarez will come to the United States on a seven-day visit starting June 15. His itinerary includes stopovers in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Antonio, as well as the Washington meeting with President Nixon.

In the nature of things, his visit is likely to be overshadowed by continuing analyses of the dramatic and historic accords reached in Moscow and speculations about their ramifications for world peace. But the agenda of matters to be discussed in Washington is no less important in the eyes of our southern neighbors than were the Nixon-Brezhnev talks to Americans.

Mexico and the United States do not, fortunately, have the problems of mutual arms limitations, but there are other sore points. Chief among these is the problem of the salinity of Colorado River water received by Mexico from the state of Arizona.

U.S. agricultural and water practices have not only been sowing the land for farmers in the Mexicali Valley for a decade but have been souring U.S.-Mexican relations for as long. Mexican experts think one solution would be to construct a canal to divert contaminated waters before they enter the Colorado.

Other key issues of concern to both countries include technology exchanges, the situation of migratory workers and trade. Sources close to President Echeverria indicate, however, that a major topic of discussion will be his belief that the rich, industrialized nations of the world should play a larger role in the development and progress of poor nations, without interfering in those nations' internal affairs.

President Echeverria put forth his philosophy in an address before the United Nations-sponsored conference on trade and development in Chile in April.

He noted that while there had been an unprecedented expansion in world trade in recent years, it has primarily favored the more prosperous nations and has resulted in only minimal benefits for countries in the process of development. Despite anyone's intentions, the interchange has only served to widen even more the gap between the nations.

Recent protectionist measures and the monetary crisis confirm this trend, said Echeverria. Economic inequalities are reflected in the voting power held by the large nations within international financing organizations.

He called on the International Monetary Fund to adopt a more democratic method of reaching its decisions through greater participation of the developing nations, warning that no peaceful world balance can be established that is based on the discontent of the greater number of its inhabitants.

"The progress of human society is from now on indivisible," he said. "Whatever happens in one country affects all the others and conditions its own evolution..."

"It is not only by arms that peace can be destroyed. We shall make ready for the 21st century only insofar as we comprehend that we all share a common destiny."

If the United States is the leader of the free world, the industrialized democracies, and the U.S.S.R. or China the leaders of the Communist world, Mexico can lay claim to being the leading spokesman for the interests of the developing or so-called "third world."

This could be the real import of the Nixon-Echeverria mini-summit in Washington.

Ready And Willing

There is great discussion "about it and about," as Omar Khayyam observed in another connection, with regard to whether Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will again be number two man on the Republican ticket. There are points to consider, but one thing is practically certain: if the nomination is offered to him, he will accept it.

That goes for anyone who might be nominated; one simply does not turn down this honor. And yet it has been done—and within living memory, at that.

In 1924, when President Calvin Coolidge had little or no opposition for renomination by the GOP, the vice presidency was open. Presumably following the wishes of the White House, the delegates chose Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois by acclamation. He had been a strong governor with a liberal outlook, thus being a desirable choice to balance the ticket.

To everyone's astonishment, he sent a telegram refusing the nomination. Since then convention delegates have been more careful to make sure that their contemplated choice for vice president is at least ready and willing, if not necessarily able to take over as president should the need arise.

BERRY'S WORLD

"On days like this I wish I were Amish, so I didn't have to go to high school!"

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
"Recycling" has become a fad word, and you may be sick of reading and hearing it. But behind it lies a sound, common sense idea—one which our thriffter ancestors incorporated in the old maxim, "Waste not, want not."

Our supply of natural resources is limited and we are using them up at a prodigious rate. We could slow down the pace at which we're gobbling up natural resources—and at the same time ease our increasingly serious problem of refuse disposal—by using over and over again things we now throw away.

That's all that recycling means—cleaning up or melting down for re-use materials that otherwise would be thrown away as waste. A certain amount of recycling is going on in American industry. But it's not on nearly as large a scale as it could be.

Recycled Glass
For example, glass is one of the easiest materials to recycle. Recognizing there is strong public sentiment for recycling, the Glass Containers Manufacturers Institute reported recently that used bottles and jars are being recycled at a rate of nearly 1 billion a year. What it didn't say is that this is a drop in the bucket since total industry production is 36 billion glass containers a year.

Take aluminum—also easy to recycle. Here, there's a double motive. Besides saving aluminum, reprocessing saves a great deal of electricity, which is in short supply. It takes only one-fifth as much electric power to melt a pound of used aluminum as it takes to smelt a pound of aluminum from virgin ore.

Last year, about 770 million aluminum cans were gathered up by Boy Scouts and ecological groups and carted to recycling centers. Melted down, they made 35 million pounds of metal. But that's less than 4 per cent of the 929 million pounds the aluminum industry used last year for container production. The rest came from virgin ore.

Recycling steel of junked cars is particularly attractive because it not only saves metal but helps to get rid of eyesore automobile graveyards. A start has been made with construction of some auto shredding machines which can gobble up junked cars at a rate of two a minute. But it's being done on a very small scale at present because it just isn't economical.

Prohibitive Costs
It costs about $51 worth of processing to retrieve $56 worth of steel on today's market—and that doesn't count the cost of hauling the old cars to a shredding center. Government subsidies might be justified here.

With paper, the situation is much brighter. The American Paper Institute says about one-fifth of the paper now being used in America is recycled material. One recent private study said it would be economically feasible to obtain more than a third of the nation's annual paper needs from recycled paper. Every ton of paper that is recycled saves 17 trees from destruction.

Finally, there's oil—the lubricating oil used in your car engine. About a billion gallons a year is now going literally down the drain. Experts say three-fourths of it could be reprocessed and re-used. To encourage this, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., recently introduced legislation to repeal the 6 cent a gallon tax the federal government now collects on reprocessed oil. Seems like a sensible idea.

Reports Indicate Viet Militia O.K.

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The unsung heroes of this campaign are the badly-armed South Vietnamese militia.

They are showing surprising strength.

Make no mistake about it. Not all militia are doing well. Some run after a few shots are exchanged or even before—if they hear of the enemy's arrival in time to get out safely.

Note this field report:

An outpost manned by militiamen east of My An received 100 rounds of indirect fire and was attacked by the enemy. The militiamen left the post and returned to district headquarters.

But these historically badly armed, rag-tag local units traditionally have run. What is surprising, so surprising as to be something of a miracle, is the number of instances in which the militia are standing and fighting—and in the number of instances in which they are driving off enemy units. On occasion, with air support, they have held before the onslaught of a small number of tanks.

The militiamen, of course, cannot win the conventional battles of this current North Vietnamese drive. But their operations are in distinct contrast to years past. Then it was the North Vietnamese units which were screened by and scouted for by sizable numbers of Viet Cong irregulars who harassed South Vietnamese forces and destroyed or captured key communication points.

In the long run, this surprising military valor, if it holds up, could make a surprising difference in the war—the deeper the North Vietnamese drive south.

As noted before in these columns, if these local militia, representative of ordinary, rural people are willing to die for their villages and hamlets and this willingness to die continues, then the North Vietnamese cannot win South Vietnam short of a complete collapse of the Saigon government and its regular forces, even if Hanoi should capture half or three-fourths of the countryside. With this sort of irregular resistance, Hanoi would be unable to hold what it had won.

Take some field reports at random, with the number of enemy reported killed omitted as being normally aggregated, but including the more realistic figure of enemy weapons captured. Remember that these are small-unit engagements, with few men usually engaged, and are not to be compared with the headline battles. In this context, the number of casualties (the willingness to fight and die) is remarkable. Seven militiamen were killed and 21 wounded in a fight with the enemy east of Dak To. Five weapons were captured.

Sixteen militiamen were killed and 21 wounded in two contacts with the enemy near Doc Than. The militia, supported by artillery and tactical air strikes, captured 10 crew-served and 21 individual weapons and destroyed one recoilless rifle and two 82mm mortars.

An undetermined-sized enemy force shelled and attacked a militia outpost north of Nam Can, killing two militiamen. The enemy left behind four weapons.

Ten militiamen were killed and 30 wounded in an engagement northeast of Dong Ha, but captured 15 individual and three crew-served weapons.

Two militiamen were killed and three wounded in a fight with an undetermined number of enemy north of Cau Be. The militia reported capturing three crew-served and three individual weapons.

Militia engaged the enemy in the Dong Xuan-Tuy An region, seizing two crew-served and seven individual weapons, but losing one militiaman killed and five wounded.

"Off With The Brush" Campaign Urged

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from "Ohio Teen" could have been written by me. I am also a high school senior who hates to kiss a guy who has a moustache or a beard. But let's be honest—we girls are responsible for all that hair.

It all started when the Beatles came to this country and the teenyboppers shrieked, fainted and went completely ape over the group. The American boys felt they had to imitate the Beatles to win the favor of the girls. So they let their hair grow long and the inevitable happened. In true American style "bigger is better and most is best."

The youth of our nation became hair-worshippers. Hair became a symbol of the New Culture, independence and rebellion. Most parents hated it. Sample dialogue: "Get a haircut or leave this house."

So now it's up to the girls to get rid of the hairy problem. And it IS a problem. Keeping all that hair clean is work, and most guys don't bother. We girls must now say, "Off with the brush—or there'll be no kisses." Are you with me, Ann?—The All Clear In Eau Claire

Dear Claire: I don't need to be with you. There's nobody with a beard or moustache I care to kiss. But lots of luck.

Dear Ann Landers: A few years ago we went to Canada for a vacation. There was a guided tour—courtesy of the motel. The guide kept referring to the Canadian side of the Falls and the American side of the Falls. My father called the guide's attention to the fact that Canada is just as much a part of America as the United States. This is my question, Ann:

The inhabitants of South America, Central America and North America are Americans. The inhabitants of Canada are also Canadians. The people of Mexico are called Mexicans. But what are the people of the United States called—other than Americans?—Lansing Query
Dear Q.: U.S. citizens.

Dear Ann Landers: You have waged a most successful campaign against drop-in-visitors who don't even knock, for which we congratulate you. Many people who thought they owed it to friends and relatives to be on 24-hour call have come to realize that they were being taken advantage of. Your columns gave them the courage to put an end to it. Now will you do something for those of us who own small yachts?

A great many landlubbers don't know it's not only bad manners, but a legal offense to set foot on a boat until the words "come aboard" are spoken. For those who don't wish to shout, a light knock on the hull can be heard inside. And now the matter of shoes. It is an unspeakable gaffe to come aboard a yacht wearing ordinary street shoes. It could cause permanent damage to painted and varnished surfaces.

I am aware that a rather small segment of your readers own yachts but since you are read by people in every walk of life I felt this was the very place to go for help to get my message across.—Old Salt In Key West

Dear Salt: Never let it be said that I discriminated against the rich. Here is your letter—for the one tenth of one per cent.

On Bar-B-Q Day

VIRGINIA — The second annual Brick Street Tour of Old Virginia will be held during the annual Bar-B-Q days, June 16-18, with the tour scheduled for Saturday, the 17th. Only cars built before World War Two will be arranged before the tour leaves the site for a route on brick streets, driving past 20 or more old homes built in generations past.

This year's tour will end at the Dunnaway home, built in 1880, now the property of Mrs. Otto L. Dour. This is a two-story brick structure with large porches, carved cornices, tall windows and high ceilings. Tour members will be invited inside for conversation and view of the furnishings.

Last year's tour included many old automobiles, model T Fords, Dodges, Buicks and the lead car was a 1928 Pierce-Arrow, 7-passenger sedan. The tour last year ended at the W. S. Harwick home on South Cass street, a splendid victorian structure, with tower, ornate trim and large porches. Cass street in Virginia has many old fine homes, once the property of generals, judges, senators, bankers and churches.

This year's route is about four miles distance and considered a comfortable and adequate trip.

Thomas C. Rose Named To GOP Committee

State Representative Thomas C. Rose of Jacksonville has been named to the resolutions and platform committee for the Illinois Republican State Convention scheduled for Rockford June 17.

Don Adams, Republican state central committeeman for the 20th Congressional District announced the appointment along with several others from central and west-central Illinois.

Others named included: Mario Costa, Montgomery county, permanent organization; Clyde Belcher, Madison county, credentials; Keith Mefford, Macoupin county, rules and procedures; Leland Maupin, Jersey county, University trustees; Paul Campbell, Calhoun county, arrangements; John Short, Sangamon county, presidential elector; Richard (Hap) Northern of Adams county, at-large delegates to national nominating convention; and Ed King of Winchester, Scott county, committee to make nominations for national committeeman and woman.

Adams said, "These men will ably reflect the Republican thinking of central and west central Illinois."

SPECIAL EDUCATION RULES REVISION CONSIDERED

CHICAGO (AP) — The first in a series of three public hearings concerning rules governing the education of handicapped children will be held June 19 in Mount Vernon, officials announced Monday.

Michael Bakalis, state superintendent of public instruction, said the hearings are a culmination of a year-long study on revision of special education rules. The rules were established in 1964, he said.

Bakalis said the proposed revision has centered on updating the rules and making them more enforceable.

Other hearings are scheduled for June 21 in Chicago and June 23 in Springfield.

"We need the input, the additions and corrections from the people most directly concerned with special education—parents and groups representing parents of children in special education classes," Bakalis said in a prepared statement.

Each witness will receive a copy of the proposed rules prior to the hearings, officials said.

ROCKS THROWN IN FRANKLIN

Sheriff's deputies Tuesday morning investigated two instances of criminal damage to property reported at Franklin. Whitlock's store and a telephone booth owned by General Telephone Company sustained broken glass. A plate glass window at the store was broken and windows in the phone booth were damaged by rocks thrown by someone.

For Mrs. Carter

Graveside rites will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in Jacksonville East cemetery for Mrs. Mildred Carter who died Monday at Norris hospital. Rev. William J. Boston will officiate.

Friends may call at Gillham-Buchanan Funeral Home after 12 noon on Wednesday.

Mrs. Carter was born at Paintsville, Kentucky, daughter of Lewis and Isabel Daniels Castle. She was twice married, both husbands preceding in death. Two brothers survive, Bosier Castle of Newark, Ohio and Ora Castle, Stamping Grounds, Kentucky.

City Manager Topic June 7 For Ambucs

Ambucs and guests will be brought up to date on the function of the proposal for City Manager form of government for Jacksonville at the group's luncheon meeting Wednesday, June 7th, at Holiday Inn. Lee Roy Jackson, Jr. will be speaking on the topic.

According to the club president Bob Linde the local club will be competing for several awards at the upcoming National convention. Linde has submitted achievement records for Mt. Ambuc, Project Management, Attendance, Local Charities and Bulletin. The Scrapbook entry will be taken to the convention by a delegate. The roster in May listed 78 members, qualifying the locals for a Diamond 75 club.

Reservations should be sent to Bob Moss immediately for the installation banquet June 16th. National Ambuc president-elect Waldo Ball will be the speaker.

The Ambuc softball team continues winning games, with last week's contest with Rotary resulting in a 27-5 score. This week's game, with the Moose team, starts at 6:45 p.m. with players to report by 6:15.

There were 43 at last week's club meeting with Gaylord Swisher of Swisher Realty a guest. The 50-50 money went to Jim Downer and Don Winkelman received the lucky buck. Lerton Krushas from Illinois Power Company presented the program.

Whence Named

The original "alamo" is a kind of popular tree, known as the cottonwood tree. The Alamo in Texas, a fortress which was originally a Franciscan mission, got its name because it was located in a grove of alamo trees.

Travel Talk

Thelma Bacon Pinson

Airlines are eager to get young people used to traveling on planes because they see in them potential lifetime riders... For that reason, they offer special rates from which you can benefit handsomely between your twelfth and your twenty-second birthdays... And Youth Fare Cards cost $3 and is available at airline ticket offices, travel agents, your air terminal and is good on most lines for as long as you remain within the age limit.

Be sure to ask about youth fare rates when you call about your reservation because discounts vary from airline to airline... And some have restrictions based on the day of the week of the season of the year... Take advantage of your youth — travel!

Don't stay at home — now is the time to travel and THRIFT TRAVEL SERVICE is the place to come. We handle travel and sleeping reservations, plan itineraries and give advice on tips, clothing and climate. Bruce recently completed his junior year at Triopia High School where he is president of the student council and active in football and basketball.

Alert Area To Planes Flying At Low Levels

Pilots of the 183rd Tactical Fighter Group, Illinois Air National Guard, Capital Airport, Springfield, Illinois will be flying over or near this area at low altitude and high speed. Their altitude will be 500 feet above the ground and at speeds of 300 to 500 miles per hour. These speeds are not sufficient to cause sonic booms.

Although flights will not be conducted daily, such flights will be flown during daylight hours only. These Air Guard pilots will be flying F-4C phantom jet aircraft.

These flights are only part of the training program placed upon the 183rd jet pilots by the United States Air Force to assure their readiness in event of combat duty.

Their route runs from Springfield, Illinois to Pana, Illinois to Donnellson, Illinois to Staunton, Illinois to South of Jacksonville, Illinois to Winchester, Illinois, to Griggsville, Illinois. The jets will complete the route in approximately 30 minutes total time.

Polly's Pointers

Some Sewing Patterns Designed For Confusion

By POLLY CRAMER
Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—Surely some of the many readers of the column have encountered my problem and perhaps conquered it. How does one remove female puppy stains from kitchen floors? I have tried everything including straight bleach with no luck but surely there is some recourse open to me other than retelling the floor.—MRS. D.E.
DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with sewing patterns that come with the suggestion for making the top and pants or skirt of contrasting colors or fabrics and then do not break the yardage down so one knows how much to buy of each. Thanks for listening.—EVALYN rage floor if it is clean. Vacuum thoroughly on both sides. Make a thick suds of warm water and a mild soap or detergent. I use a brush to take up the suds and go across the weave a narrow band at a time. Wipe off the suds and dirt with a clean rag wrung out in clear water. Do not soak the rug. Clean both sides and allow to dry. If the weather is warm this can be done by leaving them spread flat out of doors.—MRS. V.H.C.

DEAR POLLY—Do tell Mrs. T.L.A. to clean her Indian rugs by tossing fresh snow on them and then sweeping vigorously with a good broom. Do not let the snow melt. This works great and I learned in Gallup, New Mexico, it is the way the Navajos clean them.—MRS. K.S.O.
DEAR GIRLS—An expert and collector of such rugs told me that no matter whether the rugs are old or new the colors MAY run so a corner must be first tested for fastness no matter what the age or quality. He likes the use of lukewarm mild suds and water but no hard scrubbing as the rug may "fuzz" up. If they are to be cleaned the pressurized method of cleaning is to be preferred. Such rugs are made of natural wool and the methods of dyeing may vary so beware and test before you try anything.—POLLY
DEAR POLLY—My sewing machine bobbins were so unhandy as each one had to be picked up and looked at separately to find a desired color. Now they are slipped on a soda straw and lay neatly behind the thread spools so I can see at a glance

We are indebted to Eddy Kantar and the American Contract Bridge League Bulletin for today's hand.
South has a real problem at trick one. Which hand you can see that the lead was a singleton and that the winning play is to win in dummy, but Kantar points out that a lead from queen-jack small or queen-jack-two small is more likely than a singleton or doubleton queen. You agree with Eddy and win in your hand.

Then you attack spades. East wins the first spade and leads a heart. West ruffs and returns a club and eventually you have to lose a heart and the ace of diamonds for down one.
Tough luck! Or was it bad play?
It was bad play. South should have taken out a little insurance after winning that first heart in his own hand. He should have cashed the ace and king of clubs!
Now let East rise with his ace of spades and give his partner a heart ruff. It won't do the defense a bit of good. West will ruff the heart for the second defensive trick.

Then if he leads a club South will ruff in either hand and discard a heart from the other one. If he leads a diamond, South will eventually discard diamond. Either way the contract is home.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7 — Born today, you are not a particularly gregarious person, and, in fact, are comfortable in society only when surrounded by those who think and live very much the way you do. The same holds true when it comes to your work, for, unless you are in the company of harmonious people with the same general career goals as yours, you are apt to perform with less assurance and, thus, with less success than you otherwise would. Regardless of your surroundings, however, you will have to take care always not to be taken in by insincere flattery.

Essentially an idealist, it is sometimes extremely difficult for you to accept the world as it is. Unless your mental distress is backed up by some kind of action, however, your concern will be of little use in the correction of inequities and so on. Fortunately, you are wise enough to know that this is true—but you will have to be careful that in your zeal you don't become involved in too many things at once. Know where help is needed most along the lines where you can help best.

Something of a dreamer, you probably have managed to maneuver your fanciful imagination into productive channels. Training in one of the arts could open up wonderfully creative outlets for your visionary tendencies. Writing, painting, music: any of these could provide just the avenue of expression you need.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, June 8
GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Know what you're looking for—precisely!—and you should have little trouble making the right purchase. Otherwise, you may find yourself with excess baggage.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — News from an old friend brings temporary sadness. Even so, you should have little trouble seeing the bright side of the general situation.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Economy is urged at the present time. Take care not to aggravate a situation which has lately arisen on the home front. Let sleeping dogs lie.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Knowing where and when not to speak your mind can make all the difference between endearing yourself to another today and turning him or her away.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Misunderstandings can be easily patched up today if you make the effort immediately. Don't allow even an unwitting offense to be ignored.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Though you pull out all emotional and intellectual stops today, you will hardly be able to persuade another of your serious intentions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — You may have been missing something quite important to your future by refusing to talk to one who has recently offended you. Forgiveness pays.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — Present your case carefully but with a sense of humor. There is no question that you can convince others of your innocence in the present situation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — This isn't the day to put new plans into effect. Turn your energies and your attention to those projects that can benefit many.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21) — Give your full attention to even the smallest endeavor today. This is especially true should you be traveling—particularly by car.

ARIES (March 22-April 20) — Though you are by nature quite calm, this is a day which may leave you jittery by evening. Don't be surprised at the sudden change of mood in a co-worker.

TAURUS (April 21-May 21) — Whatever happens today should be ultimately for the good—though you may not realize that fact for a long time to come. Remain cheerful throughout.

SO-CALLED JOKE NETS $1000 FINE, PROBATION TERM

Chicago (AP) — A machine shop owner has been fined $1,000 and placed on probation for six months for telling an airline stewardess "If you don't have any more wine, I'll hijack this plane to Cuba."

Floyd H. Rice, 40, of suburban Addison could have been sentenced to a year. The government recommended that Judge Alexander J. Napoli of U.S. District Court grant probation and impose the maximum fine under the air piracy law after Rice told the judge he had no intention of scaring anyone but realized now his joking remark might have been misunderstood.

He pleaded guilty Friday to a charge of giving false information about a hijacking to an airline stewardess. He was arrested May 2 at O'Hare International Airport after arrival aboard a Delta Airliner from Tampa, Fla.

Aaron Playing 'Henry Modest'

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI)—Babe Ruth would go through this same little ritual every day.

It got to be a game or charade he and Joe McCarthy played during the Babe's final season with the Yankees in 1934.

"How do you feel?" McCarthy would ask Ruth rather casually before each ball game.

The Great Man would grunt once or twice, making up his mind in the process, and then would let the Yankee manager know whether or not he felt like playing baseball that day.

Joe McCarthy was and still is a bright, perceptive man. Treating Ruth the way he did in that difficult twilight time, he kept a molehill from ever becoming a mountain.

That was more than 35 years ago but times haven't changed that much, especially in baseball where few things ever change.

Have you ever heard of RHIP? It's an old Navy saying which means Rank Has Its Privileges and it applies in baseball the same way it does in the Navy.

A Rick Dempsey with Minnesota, for example, isn't shown quite the same deference as a Harmon Killebrew; a Bob Gallagher with Boston doesn't get quite the same treatment as a Carl Yastrzemski. The Demeys and Gallaghers no more expect it than the Killebrews and Yastrzemskis did when they came up.

Outside baseball, this is known simply as seniority and if anybody qualifies under that heading in baseball today it has to be Hank Aaron.

Aaron is putting in his 18th season with the Braves but it comes to much more than merely a matter of days, weeks and months with him.

For one thing there's Ruth's record, something Hank Aaron keeps hearing about everywhere he goes. Aaron has 648 homers and the excitement among people grows as he approaches Ruth's record total of 714.

Hank Aaron is 38 and certainly entitled to all the so-called "privileges" accorded a superstar but he does not go through any such ritual with Lum Harris, his manager, that Ruth did with McCarthy.

"I never looked for any special privileges," he says in that soft, melodic way of his that isn't in any way put on but really is pure Hank Aaron.

"The only way you're gonna have a good ball club, one with no trouble or dissension, is for the manager to treat every player alike whether he happens to have 600 home runs or only one. Why treat Hank Aaron any different than Ralph Garr, Dusty Baker, Earl Williams or Darrell Evans? I can't see where I'm entitled to more than anyone else on this club. It just wouldn't be right. I don't believe in it."

Hank Aaron is playing Henry Modest, and that he's only saying all this just to see how nice it looks in print, then you really don't know him. You don't know him at all.

Take a little thing like punctuality, a thing many big stars often abuse.

At home, the Braves generally start their hitting practice at 6:15 p.m. Aaron usually is at the ballpark by 3:30, never any later than 3:45.

He has never been late to the park since he has been in the big leagues. Think of that. We're talking about 18 years now.

Aaron was fined only once in his entire career and that was a long time ago. Typically, he was fined because he was helping someone else. It was a rookie with the Braves who didn't know his way to the airport when the franchise still was in Milwaukee. Aaron promised to come by and show him and was tardy reaching the airport. Notified of the fine, Aaron did another thing typical of him. He paid without a whimper.

When he feels he no longer is able to keep playing ball, a condition he hopes is at least 4-5 years away, Hank Aaron vows he will not try to "hang on."

They all say that, I reminded him, and then hang on anyway. "I don't care what anyone else does," he said. "I'm never gonna stick around and embarrass myself. Never."

Lum Harris claims managing would be a cakewalk if they were all like Hank Aaron. He's never a problem, says Harris. "He's played two doubleheaders for us this season already, whaddya think of that? I'm sure he plays lots of times when he shouldn't be playing, when he's hurt."

And if Aaron ever changes his mind and decides to "hang on," Harris wouldn't blame him a bit. What's wrong with hanging on?

"I did," confesses Harris. "My arm hurt worse'n a toothache when I was 35 but they kept paying me $1,100 a month in Triple A so I kept right on pitching when I couldn't really pitch anymore. If they were nice enough to pay me, I was nice enough to try. It was better than carrying a lunch pail."

"Finally after 4-5 years, the manager, Nick Cullop, called me to his room one day and said 'We made a deal, and I'm sorry to have to tell you you're released.' I told him that's okay. I know I can't pitch anymore. So do you. That was back in 1951. But I was fortunate enough to know a fellow (Paul Richards), he brought me back to the big been here ever since."

Siebert Checks Sox Attack, 2-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Sonny Siebert checked heavy-hitting Chicago on four hits and Tommy Harper and Luis Aparicio knocked in the runs as the Boston Red Sox whipped the White Sox 2-0 Tuesday night.

Siebert notched his fifth victory in seven decisions by outdueling Chicago's Wilbur Wood, 8-4. Siebert only walked one batter and didn't allow more than one hit in any inning.

Blue Stumbles Again But A's Dump Indians 7-2

CLEVELAND (AP)—Vida Blue failed to pick up a victory in his third straight start, but his Oakland teammates rallied for six runs in the last two innings to beat the Cleveland Indians 7-2 Tuesday night.

Blue allowed seven hits and both Cleveland runs before leaving in the seventh inning. Darold Knowles and Roland Fingers, the eventual winner, both came out of the bullpen to choke off a Cleveland rally.

The A's came back from a 2-1 deficit with a two-run eighth as Joe Rudi doubled home the tying run and Sal Bando knocked in the go-ahead tally with a single.

Then Oakland put the game out of Cleveland's reach with a four-run ninth capped by Reggie Jackson's three-run homer, his 12th of the year.

The A's scored first in the first inning and the Indians went ahead in the third.

Mincher's Bat Guides Rangers By Yankees 6-3

ARLINGTON (AP)—Pinch-hitter Don Mincher's two-run single in the sixth inning capped a three-run Texas uprising as the Rangers downed the New York Yankees 6-3 Tuesday night.

With one out in the sixth, Ted Ford walked, moved to third on Jeff Burroughs' single and scored on Lenny Randle's single.

Toby Harrah walked and Mincher, hitting for pitcher Dick Bosman, slapped his single to left center.

The Rangers jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first on singles by Elliott Maddox, Dave Nelson and Rich Billings off Yankee left-hander Fritz Peterson, 3-9.

New York scored once in the second and again in the third without benefit of a hit.

Frank Howard homered in the fourth for the Rangers and Rusty Torres matched it in the eighth for New York.

Bosman, who surrendered only one hit in his six-inning stint, won his fourth game in nine decisions.

CHURCH WINS FLIGHT

CARTHAGE — Gary Church of Jacksonville tied for first spot in the first flight of the Western Illinois Golf Association tournament at Carthage June 3-4.

Church and D. A. Weirberg and Rick McLaughlin of Quincy each fired a 109 to share top honors in the flight.

Mike O'Connell of Quincy took the championship flight with a 31-29-37-77.

James Suits of New Berlin shared honors in the third flight with a 77, with Don Galloway of Mt. Sterling tied with five other golfers atop the fifth flight, and Richard Vancil of Mt. Sterling tied for second in the sixth flight.

Eight quarterbacks turned out for spring football practice at Notre Dame.

New York Cools Off Streaking Reds, 3-2

NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy Agee knocked in the winning run with a seventh-inning single as the New York Mets cooled off the hot Cincinnati Reds with a 3-2 triumph Tuesday night.

Agee's single drove in Jim Beauchamp, who had delivered a pinch-hit single for winning pitcher Jim McAndrew, 5-1, and moved to second on a walk to Bud Harrelson. The Mets' victory stopped a seven-game Cincinnati winning streak.

Tug McGraw pitched the last two innings for New York and recorded his ninth save of the season.

Red-hot Johnny Bench, who had seven home runs in five games last week to tie a National League record, hit his 14th homer of the year after Bobby Tolan's single to give Cincinnati a 2-0 lead in the fourth.

The Mets came back with a run in their half of the fourth on John Milner's fifth homer of the year and tied the game in the sixth.

The loser was Don Gullett, 23, who came on in relief of Cincinnati's starter Gary Nolan. Gullett, 2-3. HRs—Cincinnati, Bench (14). New York, Milner (5).

New NHL Teams Go With Youth

MONTREAL (AP)—The New York Islanders and Atlanta Flames—expansion franchises for the National Hockey League's 1972-73 season—stocked their clubs Tuesday, passing up many of the familiar names available and choosing to go with young players instead of veterans.

Atlanta opened the expansion draft of goalies, choosing Montreal's Phil Myre. The Islanders followed by taking Gerry Desjardins. Atlanta's second goalie selection was rookie Dan Bouchard, who spent last season with Boston's American Hockey League farm team. The Islanders completed the goalie draft by selecting Billy Smith of Los Angeles, who played last year with Springfield of the AHL.

The Islanders chose first in the regular phase of the draft and made defenseman Bart Chrasley of Montreal their opening selection.

Atlanta's first choice was another Montreal defenseman, Kerry Ketter.

The most familiar names chosen in the draft were Boston's Ed Westfall and Minnesota's Ted Hampson, both selected by the Islanders.

General Manager Bill Torrey of New York chose eight defensemen and 11 forwards.

Cliff Fletcher, GM of the Atlanta club, picked New York Rangers' farmhand Norm Gratton following Ketter and also came up with Bill MacMillan, who played for Toronto last year, defenseman Pat Quinn of Vancouver and Ron Harris of Detroit and forwards Keith McCreary of Pittsburgh, Ernie Hicke of California, Bob Leiter of Pittsburgh and Lew Morrison of Philadelphia.

Torrey caused a bit of a stir selecting forward Norm Ferguson from California as his 17th choice. Ferguson has signed a contract with the New York Raiders of the rival World Hockey Association, but Torrey vowed before the draft that he would pursue all of his choices vigorously, even if it meant going to court.

Following the draft the Minnesota club assigned defenseman Bob Paradise to Atlanta and veteran forward Gordon Labossiere to New York. The transaction was called a "transfer" but apparently involved compensation to the expansion clubs for overlooking other available Minnesota draftees.

The new clubs paid $6 million each with the Islanders tagged an extra $4 million in indemnification fees to the New York Rangers for invading their territory.

The Islanders, who allowed Atlanta to pick first in the goalie selection and interleague drafts, had the first choice in the selection of regular players and will have the first crack in Thursday's draft of amateurs.

New York is expected to choose right winger Billy Harris of the Toronto Marlboros in that draft while Atlanta reportedly will go for Jacques Richard of the Quebec Remparts.

Atlanta set up another possible confrontation with the WHA by drafting defenseman Bill Spear from Providence of the American League in the inter-league draft. Spear has also signed to play with the Raiders of the WHA.

PICK GRID COACH
POPLAR GROVE, Ill. (AP) — Gary Ferguson was named head football coach at North Boone High School Tuesday, succeeding Luther Aman who was fired last April after posting a two-year record of 2-13.

Torrey caused a bit of a stir selecting forward Norm Ferguson from California as his 17th choice. Ferguson has signed a contract with the New York Raiders of the rival World Hockey Association, but Torrey vowed before the draft that he would pursue all of his choices vigorously, even if it meant going to court.

Following the draft the Minnesota club assigned defenseman Bob Paradise to Atlanta and veteran forward Gordon Labossiere to New York. The transaction was called a "transfer" but apparently involved compensation to the expansion clubs for overlooking other available Minnesota draftees.

The new clubs paid $6 million each with the Islanders tagged an extra $4 million in indemnification fees to the New York Rangers for invading their territory.

The Islanders, who allowed Atlanta to pick first in the goalie selection and interleague drafts, had the first choice in the selection of regular players and will have the first crack in Thursday's draft of amateurs.

New York is expected to choose right winger Billy Harris of the Toronto Marlboros in that draft while Atlanta reportedly will go for Jacques Richard of the Quebec Remparts.

Atlanta set up another possible confrontation with the WHA by drafting defenseman Bill Spear from Providence of the American League in the inter-league draft. Spear has also signed to play with the Raiders of the WHA.

The Islanders chose first in the regular phase of the draft and made defenseman Bart Chrasley of Montreal their opening selection.

Atlanta's first choice was another Montreal defenseman, Kerry Ketter.

The most familiar names chosen in the draft were Boston's Ed Westfall and Minnesota's Ted Hampson, both selected by the Islanders.

General Manager Bill Torrey of New York chose eight defensemen and 11 forwards.

Cliff Fletcher, GM of the Atlanta club, picked New York Rangers' farmhand Norm Gratton following Ketter and also came up with Bill MacMillan, who played for Toronto last year, defenseman Pat Quinn of Vancouver and Ron Harris of Detroit and forwards Keith McCreary of Pittsburgh, Ernie Hicke of California, Bob Leiter of Pittsburgh and Lew Morrison of Philadelphia.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Anxiety May Cause Rise

Is Her Blood Pressure Normal?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My younger sister on the West Coast has a blood pressure of 134 over 84. Her doctor said the maximum was 130 over 80 and if she didn't get immediate treatment she would die. She convinced me to get a check-up and my blood pressure was 136 over 86. My doctor said it was fine, that the maximum was 140 over 90, but it tended to creep up in a person my age. He said I shouldn't gain weight and if the pressure got higher we would have to start treating it. Any opinions or comments, please?

Dear Reader—The official opinion of the American Heart Association and the American Medical Association is that a blood pressure of 140 over 90 or below is normal. I can add to this from personal experience that blood pressure tends to creep up in a person my age. Many individuals after a significant loss of excess fat develop relatively normal blood pressure, even though they might have had quite significant elevations before that.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I used to exercise 15 to 20 minutes right before going to bed each night because I fell asleep faster, felt better in the morning and seem to have had more energy and be more alert the next day. Then I read somewhere that exercise at that time is not good for you, so I quit altogether. (Other times are not as convenient.) I have decided to get a medical opinion. Do you think exercise at night before going to bed is harmful? I am a 17-year-old girl.

Dear Reader—Of course not. Some people do not like to exercise at that time because it may have some effect on the blood pressure. It is a good idea to avoid exercise at that time. It is true that individuals who have health problems, particularly heart disease, are better off to do whatever exercise they are able to do before meals rather than after meals. Otherwise, there should be no reason why a person could not do his exercises just before going to bed. Each person often develops his own routine and the most important thing about exercise is to follow a proper program, which means enough, but not too much, and do it regularly.

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E.

CONDUCTOR TO DETROIT
DETROIT (AP) — Aldo Ceccato, 38, has been named principal conductor of the Detroit Symphony, effective with the 1973-4 season.

Sixteen Ehrling's tenure as music director will continue through the 1972-3 season.

Ceccato was born in Milan in 1934 and entered conducting in his early 20s after having been a pianist. He has recently been guest conducting in Europe and America. He will conduct nine weeks of concerts in Detroit in his first season and a minimum of 12 weeks in his second.

Bread Tray Coffee Bavarian Cream

ORANGE CARROTS
A small amount of sauce gives great flavor.

6 cups thinly sliced carrots
2 cups boiling water
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon cornstarch
4 teaspoons sugar
1 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons butter
2 teaspoon grated orange rind
In a large saucepan boil the carrots, water and salt, covered, just until tender—about 5 minutes; drain in colander. In the clean dry saucepan stir together the cornstarch and sugar; gradually stir in orange juice, keeping smooth. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened; stir in butter and orange rind. Add carrots; reheat. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: About 1½ pounds carrots will be needed. Pare carrots and cut crosswise with knife held at an angle to make thin slices as long and oval as possible.

There were six Democrats on the New Mexico ballot, with McGovern, Humphrey and Wallace rated the contenders. That delegation will be divided between the top two finishers in the preferential primary.

New Jersey had a meaningless preference contest, with only Rep. Chisholm and former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina on the ballot. The real competition there was between McGovern and Humphrey delegates.

McGovern went into the Tuesday balloting with a hefty lead in committed nominating delegates, and the prospect of capturing more from the ranks of the uncommitted and the dropout candidates.

McGovern's national count was 537. Wallace was second with 318. Humphrey had 299.

But in advance of the California balloting, there was a likelihood that a substantial victory would recruit more McGovern delegates through political fallout in other states.

at the convention opening July 10 in Miami Beach.

Muskie, the towering favorite for the nomination before the long primary season began, dropped out of active competition after a succession of primary defeats, although he said he was still a candidate and hoped for revival in a deadlocked convention. It was a fragile hope.

The independent California Poll, published four days before the primary, rated McGovern the leader by 20 per cent. Humphrey scoffed at those figures, produced his own poll rating the race almost even, and said defeat would not drive him out of his bid for a repeat performance as the Democratic nominee.

But McGovern already was acting like a nominee working to reunite the party for the presidential campaign itself.

He switched his schedule and flew to Houston to confer early Tuesday with Democratic governors, whose views ranged from skeptical to hostile toward his nomination. Southerners, led by Gov. Jimmy Carter of Georgia, had said a McGovern-led ticket would mean trouble for the party across their part of the country.

McGovern said he was leaving open the possibility that he might choose a Southerner as vice-presidential nominee if he is selected to lead the ticket. He mentioned Gov. Reubin Askew of Florida and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas as possibilities.

Humphrey was to meet with the governors Wednesday.

McGovern said his conference with 22 Democratic governors was beneficial, but he left the Southerners unconvinced. Carter said his critical attitude hadn't changed; Gov. Wendell Ford said he didn't think McGovern could come close to carrying Kentucky.

As in other states, the McGovern forces assembled a vast corps of volunteers to work California door to door. McGovern claimed his canvassers covered nearly 80 per cent of the Democratic households in the state. The Humphrey campaign had nothing to match that.

The campaign pattern was similar in New Jersey, where the candidates themselves staged only drop-in campaigns before heading West. Humphrey relied on Democratic organizations and on the aid of organized labor. The McGovern campaign was fashioned around volunteers and door-to-door canvassers.

The Tuesday primaries left only one to go in the unprecedented marathon of Democratic preliminaries—23 primary elections spanning the continent and the calendar from New Hampshire's March 7 to New York's June 20.

In the New York finale, 238 members of the 278-vote delegation will be chosen on a district basis. McGovern is virtually unopposed in more than a dozen New York congressional districts, and his managers expect to win at least 200 votes in that biggest of Democratic delegations.

WALLACE MOVES FROM INTENSIVE CARE SECTION

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who continues to recover from gunshot wounds, was moved out of the intensive-care unit and into a private room at Holy Cross Hospital Tuesday.

Vascular surgeon Dr. Joseph Schanno, the main physician in the governor's case, told a Wallace aide that he is pleased and optimistic about the rate of improvement shown by Wallace, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The governor has been in the intensive-care unit since he underwent surgery to remove a bullet on May 15. He was shot that day during a campaign rally in nearby Laurel, Md.

Tom Burke, a hospital spokesman, said the governor will have a private nurse at his bedside around the clock.

House Panel Approves Equal Rights Amendment

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) —

The proposed Equal Rights Amendments to the U.S. Constitution, sought by feminists to combat sex discrimination, was approved Tuesday by the Illinois House Judiciary Committee.

The Senate-passed resolution to ratify the ERA now moves to the House floor, where its opponents are expected to wage a strenuous fight to kill it.

Women's liberationists in the House galleries broke into applause as the committee approved the measure 13-5. Scores of women opposed to it filed glumly out of the chamber following the three-hour hearing.

The one-sentence ban on any type of discrimination against women, drawn up 49 years ago but passed by Congress only this year, was defeated once already this session by the II.

Illinois House. It now is under reconsideration.

So far, 20 states have voted to ratify the proposal.

In the deepening fight over the ERA, academic experts on the constitution are at odds, while some segments of organized labor are aligned with business groups in opposition. Other unions advocate the measure.

Elizabeth McPike, an official of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, told the committee that the amendment would help more women get jobs.

"As it is, women are told they can't be pipefitters because they can't carry around a 15-or 20-pound pipe," she said. "So they get sent home to sling a 40-pound baby on their hip."

Rep. Thomas J. Hanahan, D-McHenry, also a union official and frequently a labor spokesman in the House, testified that the amendment would nullify legislation won over many years for protection of women on the job.

"Not one man who has toiled and been in the picket lines and in the forefront of the labor fights over the years has written to me about this," Hanahan said.

Opponents of the amendment focused on warnings from various constitutional authorities that it could leave young women vulnerable to the military draft.

Rabbi Chaim D. Keller, head of Rabbinical College of Chicago, attacked the proposal as one that would put large numbers of women in uniform.

"What madness has overtaken us or what dire national emergency threatens to engulf us that we should force hundreds of thousands of young girls to change their lifestyle and submit to the regimentation of the armed forces in or out of combat?" he asked.

Rep. Giddy Dyer R-Hinsdale, one of two House sponsors of the resolution, turned to a gallery filled with women opposed to the measure and told them not to fight it "because you think it might just plunge you out of your safe little nest into the cold, cruel world."

Hisses and boos erupted from the gallery.

"Your nest isn't as safe as you think it is," Mrs. Dyer persisted.

REPORT CASTRO HAS HEART TROUBLE

WARSAW (AP) — Fidel Castro is suffering from heart trouble, Polish government sources said Tuesday night shortly after the Cuban leader arrived in Warsaw.

The medical term used was "a state prior to a heart infarct." An infarct results from reduction in the flow of blood to the heart muscle. A pre-coronary state means that the flow of blood is narrowed, raising the possibility that it be closed completely.

Opposition to the measure was led by House Majority Leader Henry J. Hyde, R-Chicago, who conceded that the government and the courts "have been woefully late in recognizing invidious sexual discrimination."

But, Hyde said, the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, guaranteeing all persons equal protection under the law, is sufficient to ban discrimination against women. He told the committee that this amendment lacks drawbacks found in the ERA.

"Some of the middle-class women and the upper-class women who want this ought to consult the rest of the women," he added.

Dr. and Mrs. Dean Kirkpatrick and infant son returned to their home at Schiller Park, Chicago Saturday after visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kirkpatrick and son, Danny. Mrs. Dean Kirkpatrick and son were guests during the week. All attended commencement exercises at the local high school of which Danny was a member of the graduating class.

The measure was passed 32-7 and appropriates $125,000 for the foreign office. Illinois has had a Brussels office staffed by 10 commercial attaches since January, 1968. It also has Washington and New York offices.

Sen. Tom Merritt, R-Hoos-ton, sponsor of the bill, said the state "cannot afford to ignore ... the rapidly increasing importance that the Far East is assuming."

He noted that the Brussels office already has convinced a Belgian metal products manufacturer to set up an Illinois plant employing 128 persons.

NEW YORK (AP) — After rallying briefly Tuesday, the stock market resumed its decline.

Tracing a saw-tooth pattern, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials finished off 2.93 at 951.46. It had been off more than 3 1/2 points near the start and ahead by nearly the same figure around midsession. The blue-chip indicator closed off 7 points Monday.

Declines on the New York Stock Exchange led advances by nearly 2 to 1.

Analysts said early profit taking gave way to bargain hunting. When there was no follow-through traders backed off, they said. There was nothing in the news background to account for the market's behavior, most analysts agreed.

Big Board volume, which was heavy in the early stages of the rally, totaled 15.98 million shares compared with 13.45 million Monday.

On the American Stock Exchange, volume rose to 5.01 million shares from 4.63 million Monday.

Airline issues were among the big losers for the third straight session. Brokers cited disappointing May traffic figures for the carriers as the reason for the continued weakness in this sector.

Other losers included oils, steels, motors, farm implements, and aircrafts. All other groups were mixed.

The most-active Big Board issue was Massey-Ferguson, off 1/4 at 15 1/2 on a volume of 285,700 shares. A 200,000-share block of the issue traded at 15.

Of the 1,746 issues traded on the Big Board, 948 declined, and 480 advanced. New yearly highs were reached by 24 issues and lows by 88.

Of the 1,214 issues traded on the American Stock Exchange, 571 declined and 320 advanced.

The New York Stock Exchange's index of some 1,300 common stocks closed off 0.33 at 60.12. The American Stock Exchange index finished off .08 at 27.65.

The Associated Press 60-stock average dropped 1.3 to 329.7. Industrials were off 3.0, rails were off .7, and utilities were up .2.

The number of blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the Big Board rose to 116 from a revised total of 88 Monday.

The largest block was 203,300 shares of McDonnell Douglas, which traded at 41, off 1 1/4. On the Over-the-Counter market, the NASDAQ composite index declined 0.74 to 132.00.

HUGHES MAY STAY IN CANADA ANOTHER YEAR

OTTAWA (UPI) — Howard Hughes has permission to stay in Canada for at least another year.

Ray Perrault, parliamentary secretary to Immigration Minister Bryce Mackasey, Monday confirmed in the House of Commons a Vancouver report that Hughes had been given a one-year extension of the visitor's permit granted him three months ago. The customary personal appearance was waived because of "indisposition," Perrault said.

The secretive billionaire has been holed up in his penthouse suite at the exclusive Bayshore Inn since he came to Vancouver March 14.

Perrault said in an interview outside the house that "indisposition" could mean a variety of things, including poor health. Asked whether it could also mean "love of secrecy," he said "I suppose it could include that. But I don't know whether that was a key factor in this case."

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS METHODISTS OK RECORD BUDGET

LEBANON, Ill. (AP) — A record 1973 budget and two anti-war resolutions have been approved by the Southern Illinois conference of the United Methodist Church.

At the conclusion of their four-day meeting, conference delegates authorized expenditures totaling $1,422,124 to operate its 460 churches and congregations.

The budget represents a 3.6 per cent increase over the 1972 budget and includes $47,627 as the conference's share of support for 12 black colleges affiliated with the religious denomination.

One of the antiwar resolutions passed Sunday night was addressed to President Nixon and expressed "strong opposition" by the Southern Illinois conference of the United Methodist Church to the escalation of conflict in Indochina which you have authorized.

The other resolution urged U.S. congressmen representing southern Illinois to "join in efforts to end the war, secure the withdrawal of U.S. forces from that area of the world and the return of U.S. prisoners of war."

WHITE HALL — The annual Commencement exercises for North Greene High School were held June 2 at the new gym, with 114 candidates receiving diplomas.

The program began with the processional, band under the direction of Ferdinand Mucci; invocation, Zachary Neece; Senior Chorus singing "This Is the Day and the Halls of Ivy with David Smith, accompanist.

American Legion Awards of Merit went to Miss Vicki Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dean, with Linda Larson, daughter of Jack Larson, honorable mention; Zachary Neece, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Neece, with Earl Vinyard, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vinyard, honorable mention. Lloyd Hoeman, commander of American Legion Post 70 made presentations.

Supl. R. Mason Holmes, North Greene Unit District 3, introduced the class. Dale Brant, member of the Board of Education, presented the diplomas. Dennis Garrison gave the benediction.

Junior marshals and ushers were Sheryl Bruce, Diane Bushnell, Patricia Childress, Susan Coffman, Shirley Day, Michael Easton, Julie Martin, Deborah Seely, Clark Smith and Evan Williams.

Class sponsors were Mrs. Margaret Amdal, Dean Hood, Miss Nancy Hamann.

Welfare Costs Dip In January

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's welfare costs dipped in January for the fifth time in six months, although 60,000 more persons joined relief rolls, according to government figures released Tuesday.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said unpredictable lower costs for providing medical care to the poor resulted in the $12.4-million decrease from the previous month.

Cash payments in January rose nearly $1.7 million for a total monthly welfare bill of $1.54 billion.

Previous monthly welfare-cost decreases of $15 million in August, $10 million in September, $19 million in November and $1.3 million in December were more than offset, however, by a $100-million hike in October.

Welfare rolls were expanded in January, latest month for which figures are available, by addition of 43,000 persons receiving aid to families with dependent children—AFDC—11,000 in the disabled category, and another 11,000 receiving nonfederal general assistance.

The expanding AFDC program also came in for review on Capitol Hill Monday when the Senate Finance Committee tentatively adopted a new federal-state financing plan with emphasis on keeping down the number of AFDC recipients.

When combined with changes in three adult welfare programs—the aged, blind and disabled—the plan would save the states $5 billion through 1974, said committee Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La.

Long said a primary feature of the program would be a freeze on how fast the federal share of AFDC payments could rise in proportion to population. That would encourage the states to trim their welfare rolls.

Meanwhile, in its January report HEW also said the number of elderly welfare recipients dropped by 5,000.

The report does not include current welfare figures for California, New Jersey and Vermont.

AFDC payments were made in January to nearly 10.7 million persons, including 7.7 million children, at a total cost of $555.8 million.

Nine states and Puerto Rico reported fewer AFDC recipients, while rolls swelled by more than 30 per cent in Washington, D.C., the Virgin Islands and five states: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New Hampshire and Wisconsin.

DOUBTS SST WILL EVER FLY OVER U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Because the British-French supersonic transport plane is "noisy and dirty," Transportation Secretary John Volpe says he doubts the SST will ever fly over the United States or even be allowed to land at coastal cities.

At a news conference Monday, Volpe said his department's Federal Aviation Administration won't allow the Concorde into the United States unless the plane meets noise and pollution standards.

Despite his doubts over the Concorde, the transportation secretary said he still thinks it was a mistake for Congress to kill the U.S. SST program before a prototype aircraft was built.

He suggested that the program could have been stopped at that point if environmental problems could not be solved.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Mutual fund sales have been off. Redemptions have been high. That means problems for this $58-billion industry, but in the opinion of some fund executives, you weren't supposed to say so.

The decline in sales and rise in redemptions was temporary and foreseeable, it was claimed. It didn't represent a trend, even though it persisted month after month. Every business has its ups and downs.

But something unusual was occurring. Last year, for the first time since records were kept, there were months in which redemptions exceeded sales. And off and on, it has been continuing.

Now, none other than the president of the Investment Company Institute, which represents funds owning 90 per cent of assets, concedes there are problems, at least in regard to sales.

"We must be acting affirmatively to turn the table," Robert L. Augenblick told a recent meeting of the Canadian Mutual Funds Association. Sales have been sluggish for more than a year, he said. Redemptions have climbed.

Brokerage firms which promoted and distributed funds have dropped out of business, victims of a bear market, he said, although many were victims also of their own management incompetence.

Moreover, other financial products are competing strongly for the same dollar, Augenblick said. Real estate investment trusts, for example, are now growing at a rate that resembles the early days of the mutual fund industry.

And there is the record. Many mutual funds do offer an attractive and profitable package. They provide professional management, diversification, convenience and performance—or profits.

Others, as the record clearly demonstrates, offer an inferior product. The "professional" management is lacking in wisdom, the "diversification" offers little protection, the "convenience" is tangled records, the "performance absent or negative."

In a sense, the situation seems to be one in which both an industry and its customers have experienced the pains of growing up.

Funds now are firmly established in the long-range financial planning of millions of Americans, but the glamor days of easy sales and expectation of easy money may be part of the past.

SOYBEAN, GRAIN FUTURES WEAK
CHICAGO (AP) — Commodity futures were generally weak in early dealings on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday but improved somewhat after the opening.

Trade was mixed and fairly active. Soybeans declined 1 cent shortly after the opening, largely on selling by commission house brokers for the public and by local professionals.

After the selling had abated, new buying by commercial interests set in and prices turned around. Local professionals then were forced to cover short positions.

Soybean oil and meal also were under selling pressure briefly after the opening. Meal prices improved, however, under commercial buying, advancing 50 cents a ton. The oil gain was some 5 points.

Selling in the wheat pit produced a decline of around 1/2 cent. As soybeans advanced, however, new buying entered the wheat pit, with strongest activity in deferred options. Commercial involvement was very light in wheat.

Trade in corn and oats was slow and prices held to a tight range of 1/4 cents. Commercial interests were noticeably absent.

After about an hour, soybeans were 1/4 to 1/2 cent a bushel higher, July 3.50 1/4; and was 1/4 to 1/2 higher July 1.43 1/4; corn was unchanged to 1/4 lower, July 1.24 1/4 and oats were 1/4 to 1/2 higher, July 67 1/2 cents.

Money Problems May Close Many Colleges

By LeROY POPE
UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — As many as 200 independent colleges in the United States may be closing out their final year because of money problems, according to Chairman Paul C. Reinert, S.J., of the Association of American Colleges.

Reinert, who also is president of St. Louis University, says hundreds more will have spent their unrestricted endowments within the next five years, all that they have left to live on. While the financial picture for colleges is grim, some institutions may have found a way to survive through cooperation.

The solution, according to the Academy of Educational Development, is college consortia, groups of colleges pooling physical facilities and even facilities to achieve enormous savings. The consortia usually are formed along geographical lines. Institutions in a single area will use each other's libraries, laboratories, dining halls, accounting departments, and even teachers. A few are national in scope. Half a dozen schools in widely scattered cities, for example, will pool their instructional and sales facilities to cut costs.

700 Now Participate
The academy says at least 700 colleges now participate in these consortia. It doesn't know how many separate consortia exist but recently counted 65 groups that pooled teaching facilities and shared faculty members.

"The consortia vary enormously in their purpose and organization," said Alvin C. Eurich, the academy's president. Perhaps the most common type is for a group of colleges to pool their business management functions, accounting, payroll management, endowment management and such with a firm of experts having access to computer services. "The savings for each college can run as high as 57 per cent compared with handling its own business management problems," Eurich said.

Another large consortium of colleges pooling courses in a metropolitan area calculated it saved as many as 100 teaching posts.

Insurance and campus security guard systems are ideal pooling arrangements for college consortia. Another is in the more expensive laboratories requiring investment in electron microscopes and other high cost equipment. Student and faculty recruiting on a consortium basis also saves money and helps youngsters make a wiser decision about which college in the community will be best for them.

Students Get Wide Training
A consortium in the New Orleans area this year enabled 77 social science students to get wide training.

The social work students were enabled to take courses at three different universities, one having a predominantly black student body, one predominantly white and one with about 40 per cent Latin American or black students.

Eleven colleges in New Hampshire formed a consortium to establish a marine sciences program none could have afforded independently. One of the 11, Suffolk University, was able to provide an attractive coastal site for the program. Five California state colleges collaborated similarly on a marine science program and, by pooling their resources, were able to buy a research ship.

Three college consortia in different areas operate bus services to provide transport and student jobs as drivers and mechanics.

Bit Of Paving Improves Yard

By MR. FIN
Everyone likes a lush green lawn but a little additional paving in one form or another can add to the versatility of your yard and add some needed living space.

This can be in the form of a path, a patio, a place to park your car off of the driveway. Paving need not be in conventional concrete, although it can be. You can use old broken paving, bricks that are new or used, stone, gravel or wood. Use your imagination.

For patios and parking areas you will want to use concrete or some form of stone to make it an all-weather form of paving.

Outline the area with wood strips after excavating. If drainage because they can be done by an age is good, concrete can be laid directly on the earth after excavating to the desired level. But if drainage is a problem, provide up to six inches of gravel first. Several inches is good in any event. The base, no matter what it is, should be well packed.

A path through your lawn can be made with pieces of paving rather than in one long length. Broken paving will do. So will small amounts of concrete that you can pre-cast into slabs first.

Excavate for each piece of paving, going down to a depth that will keep it a little lower than the surrounding grass. This permits easy mowing.

Mortared patios are popular amateur and done over a period of time. Once you have poured enough concrete for a large slab, you must work quickly.

Patio blocks and used bricks are both popular materials. Excavate to a depth equal to the thickness of the material plus two or three inches for a bed of sand. The sand base provides both foundation and drainage.

Install a wood form around the excavated area to hold the material in place. The wood should be treated with a preservative first. Pour in the sand and rake it level. Wet it and pack it.

Place the bricks, setting each one firmly and checking with a level frequently. When all are in, sweep sand over the surface and sweep off the excess. Wet the area and sweep in more sand after the first amount has settled.

Slabs cut from railroad ties can be used the same way. These have already been treated with a preservative so they will stand up to the weather. You can use the same material for paths through your lawn. Gravel is a popular material for a path. Dig out a few inches of dirt, line with wood held in place with stakes and then fill with gravel. Rake it smooth and level.

Whatever you use, remember that the idea is to provide a dry, non-muddy path to garden, barbecue area and playground equipment.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — At least five police officers bicycle their way through high crime areas in the city.

The bicycles are those recovered by police and never claimed by owners.

SOVIET SEAPOWER

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — A spokesman for the Chief of Naval Operations, in a speech before a local club, said Soviet seapower is challenging the United States.

F. J. Allston of Naperville, Ill., said Russian advances in military and merchant marine fleets is setting a rapid pace.

"They own the largest submarine force in the history of the world, some 375 submarines," Allston, a public information specialist, said. "More than 80 of them are nuclear powered."

Allston said that some of the Russian submarines are designed to operate under water for three and four month durations.

He said most of its ships are small and well-suited to underdeveloped ports.

HISTORIC TOWNS IN PERIL LONDON (AP) — One fifth of Britain's historic towns will be destroyed archeologically within the next 20 years, says a report presented at a conference organized by the Council for British Archeology.

Of 1,180 towns in Britain, more than 900 are considered to be historic, that is, to have reached urban status before 1750 A.D. More than 800 of these still possess archeological deposits and buildings worthy of investigation or preservation. More than half of them are severely threatened by immediate or planned redevelopment.

MUSEUM GRANT BROOKLYN (AP) — The Brooklyn Museum is the recipient of a $10,000 grant from the Van Ameringen Foundation Inc. to assist its summer educational program.

The summer projects include the creation of a Dogon community by 20 to 30 black children who will build a granary and make Dogon masks and clothing, a still-photography workshop and a black arts seminar.

New Big Brothers Program For Area

The newly organized Big Brother, Big Sister Association of Morgan County, which has four officers, an executive director and a 12-member board, is appealing for community involvement through programs before organizations, to explain the program and personal participation as a big brother or big sister.

Judge Orders Tax Funds Held In Escrow

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Judge Samuel Harrod III of Circuit Court issued a temporary restraining order Tuesday instructing the McLean County treasurer to hold in escrow nearly $4 million in personal property tax funds.

The order came on a suit filed by McLean County State's Atty. Paul Welch asking that personal property taxes be withheld from county taxing bodies until the constitutionality of the tax is decided in the U.S. Supreme Court.

By holding the funds in escrow, taxing bodies such as the school districts, will be unable to draw from the monies paid. About 70 per cent of the personal property taxes in the county are appropriated to the schools.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has urged Illinois residents to pay the tax under protest.

Welch said he sought to have the money placed in escrow because it would be unfair for only those paying the tax under protest to receive refunds.

The restraining order is in effect for 10 days and can be extended upon expiration. The Supreme Court has agreed to hear the suit questioning the constitutionality of the tax brought by Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Scott and Ogilvie. The hearing is docketed for October.

WEST COAST VISITORS ARRIVE AT ROODHOUSE

ROODHOUSE — Claude Thompson, Port Orchard, Wash., arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thompson, Sunday. He joins his wife here who has been visiting several weeks in the Homer Thompson home.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Orr, city, accompanied by a son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orr, Moro, have arrived home after a vacation trip to New Orleans, La. They spent time in Natchez and Vicksburg, Miss., and visited with Mrs. James H. Orr's aunt, Mrs. H. B. Gaunt, and others in Pine Bluff, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whitney spent the weekend with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Brooks, St. Louis, Mo. While there they attended high school commencement exercises at which time their granddaughter, Carol Brooks, graduated.

BROWN CLUB TO HEAR OF SILVER SMITHING JUNE 12

MT. STERLING — A program on Silver Smithing will be heard at the meeting Monday night, June 12th, for members of the Siloam Springs Earth Science club. This will be held at 8 p.m. at Brown County High School when Pat Hobbs will speak.

Hosts will be Harold Bond and George Whittaker. Serving refreshments will be Estelle Browning and Mrs. Bessie Boyd. The interested public is invited.

Awards In Scott At Season's End

By Mrs. James Cox (Winchester Correspondent) WINCHESTER — The Winchester Women's City Bowling League met at the Blackhawk Restaurant in Jacksonville for its banquet and final meeting. The meeting was opened by City President Marie Todd, with the invocation given by Marge Shelton.

After the banquet, those present were entertained by the Villa-Tones, a chapter of the Sweet Adelines. The minutes of the last meeting were read by city secretary, Wilda Graham, and Helen Coats, city treasurer, presented her report.

Jim Ash, owner and operator of the Winchester Bowl, gave a brief talk in which he announced that the bowling alley would be closed until August 20 for repairs and redecoration. Secretary Graham presented a 277 pin from the Illinois Women's Bowling Association and a pin for the highest game in the League to Janet Slater. Carolyn Andrews received a pin for highest series. Three women who had a 600 series this year were Carolyn Andrews, Jeanne Fay and Janet Slater. These girls are eligible for the 600 National club. Mrs. Graham has written for information concerning this club.

Officers elected for the coming year were: president, Marie Todd; vice president, Regina Thomas; secretary, Maureen Eddinger; treasurer, Hazel Cody and sergeant at arms, Linda Franklin.

Senate To Examine Building Contracts

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Senate Tuesday, by voice vote, authorized an inquiry by the Legislative Investigating Commission into contracts for reconstructing the statehouse.

The resolution was proposed by Sen. G. William Horsley, R-Springfield, with the support of Sen. Terrel E. Clarke, R-Western Springs.

Horsley said appropriations bills are pending that would spend $20.1 million on state building projects.

These bills are clouded, he added, by allegations that contracts awarded for $3.1 million in first phase rehabilitation of the statehouse have grown by $1.2 million because of cost overruns.

Horsley also said another investigation is pending of alleged kickbacks on a state contract by an architect.

The inquiry authorized Tuesday at Horsley's request would cover contracts, plus add-ons, in the last six years.

Legislative members of the commission said the investigation may not be concluded until October or November.

Besides supporting Horsley, Clarke joined Speaker W. Robert Blair in his proposed moratorium on all state capital reconstruction.

The Senate has failed to pass Blair's proposal for a $990,000 program to reconstruct the House chambers, including enclosing the chamber in bullet-proof glass.

Blair, Park Forest Republican, then hinted he might hold some $7.3 million in appropriations for reconstruction work on the statehouse.

The investigation commission began a probe of James Coady, architect for the House project, and a published report that he admitted paying "the standard 10 per cent kickback" on a contract to design the Dickson Mounds State Museum.

Traffic Panel Meets Tuesday At City Hall

The engineering, planning and traffic committee of the city council met Tuesday night in the Municipal Building to approve plans for a fall promotion sponsored by the Downtown Jacksonville Associated Merchants (DJAM).

Barney Lewis asked for and received the committee's approval to use Central Park for the two-day affair which will include a parade, chicken barbecue and two street dances.

The council must now act on the proposal. The promotion is scheduled for September 8-9.

Chief of Police Charles P. Runkel also asked the committee's advice on a Lincoln Square Shopping Center traffic matter.

Runkel said he had been asked by Building Inspector Lawrence Taylor to get the committee's opinion of a proposed additional traffic outlet in the shopping center parking lot.

Taylor will meet this morning with state traffic engineers.

Runkel said he was opposed to any more traffic outlets, noting that the state had authorized only one such drive though three are now being used. Runkel said the other two should be closed to comply with the state regulations.

Runkel said that another drive onto Morton Ave. would aggravate the "really dangerous situation" already existing at the shopping center.

The committee concurred with Runkel's suggestions. Runkel added that he had offered the services of his department in creating parking and traffic patterns within the shopping center parking lot to no avail.

Runkel also discussed proposed parking changes on North Diamond St. near Armstrong Junior High School.

AREA STORM HITS ROODHOUSE SUNDAY

ROODHOUSE — A number of trees were blown down by the storm, Sunday afternoon, some of which were uprooted. Though no serious damage was reported, the electric companies and telephone company were called out to do repair work.

The rainfall in town was heavy but outlying farm areas received small amounts.

By Illinois Senate

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Senate Tuesday rejected a bill to legalize raffles for non profit organizations who would contribute 10 per cent of the proceeds to schools.

The bill received less than the 30 votes needed for passage, but was kept on the calendar.

Sen. Daniel O'Brien, D-Chicago, Senate sponsor of the House-passed bill, said he would consult with Senate critics who found the bill too loosely drawn and who disliked the unlimited price for chances.

He said he was agreeable to amendments but denied that the legislation would open the floodgates to gambling.

"There is a lot of misunderstanding and misrepresentation," O'Brien said. "All this bill does is to regulate something that is going on in every senatorial district. It is not opening the door to gambling and to corrupt politicians."

The bill had been amended in Senate executive committee last week to give the common school fund 10 per cent of the raffle proceeds, instead of the 20 per cent set by the House. O'Brien said the committee also removed a $1 limit on the charge for a raffle ticket.

"This is an unlimited situation," said Sen. Thomas Merritt, R-Hoopeson. "It could be $500 a chance, or $1,000 to $10,000."

O'Brien said 10,000 organizations are currently holding raffles illegally in the state but are not being prosecuted. He said the bill would regulate them through the Department of Revenue.

Convicted felons and other persons designated as undesirable under the bill would be barred from obtaining licenses to hold raffles.

The $50 license fee could be revoked at any time, he said.

O'Brien called attention to legislation legalizing bingo last year. He estimated state revenue from raffles and chances could be $6 million a year, as compared to about $4 million a year from bingo.

Sen. Harris Fawell, R-Naperville, a former state's attorney, said the bill was so loosely drawn it would make book-making on horseracing legal.

GREENE DEMOLAYS, RAINBOWS SWIM HAWAIIAN STYLE

ROODHOUSE — The Rainbows and DeMolays of the Roodhouse White Hall area enjoyed an Hawaiian swimming party at the Winchester Pool Saturday evening, June 3.

During the course of the evening, Master Councilor David Mansfield of Eli chapter announced the names of the Rainbows girls in the Miss Vogue contest selected by the DeMolays. They were Sheri Harp, Vickie Dean, Brenda Douglas, Barbara Gibbins, Donna Jackson and Elise Andras. Donna Jackson won the popular vote with Elise Andras, 1st runner-up. Miss Jackson was given a lei and a floral decorated cape of terry cloth. A pineapple trophy was awarded the runner-up. Leis were donated by Rimbey's Florist.

In the selection of Mr. Cool, the names of Alan Pratt, Jack Schulz, Douglas Israel, Craig Early, Jeff Sykes and Terry Davis were offered by the Rainbows girls. Final voting gave the coveted title to Craig Early with Jack Schulz, first runner-up. Worthy Advisor Diane Bushnell bestowed similar honors upon DeMolay winners.

The Miss Vogue and Mr. Cool winners will now be contestants for the Southern Illinois title at the 25th anniversary DeMolay Association meeting to be held Sunday, June 11, at the Roodhouse Community Park.

Runkel also discussed proposed parking changes on North Diamond St. near Armstrong Junior High School.

The investigation commission began a probe of James Coady, architect for the House project, and a published report that he admitted paying "the standard 10 per cent kickback" on a contract to design the Dickson Mounds State Museum.

The committee concurred with Runkel's suggestions. Runkel added that he had offered the services of his department in creating parking and traffic patterns within the shopping center parking lot to no avail.

Runkel also discussed proposed parking changes on North Diamond St. near Armstrong Junior High School.

TWO CARS STOLEN, FOUND TUESDAY

A 1963 model auto reported stolen at 5:27 a.m. from in front of the M and M Cafe on South Main was recovered at 7:19 a.m. at the MacMurray athletic field at Johnson and Routt Streets. The auto is owned by Dale Roe of White Hall. The auto was parked a short time in front of the cafe according to police reports.

City police found a 1968 model auto at 9:40 a.m. Tuesday in the 1000 block of East Independence. Officers said the ignition had been "hot wired" and was abandoned in a ditch. The vehicle was removed from Allied Motors used car lot.

Earlier, Allied reported to city police that another car had been "hot wired" but apparently did not start and was left on the lot.

The auto was towed to city police headquarters for further investigation.

"Anything you wanted to be would be made lawful," Fawell said. "The labor pains were so tremendous in giving birth to a child called bingo. Now we are giving birth to quintuplets and more."

O'Brien said the $1 limit was lifted on the charge for chances because some churches raffle large expensive automobiles and charge as much as $25 and $50 a ticket.

Palmyra Man, William Ulrey, Dies Tuesday

William Ulrey of Palmyra died at 2:13 p.m. Tuesday at Passavant hospital. He was 39.

The body was taken to Stults Funeral Home in Palmyra. Further obituary facts and arrangements will be announced.

Democrats Trim Budget $42 Million

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Democratic majority in the Illinois Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday cut $42 million from Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's $7.4 billion budget for fiscal 1973.

The largest cut, $20 million from the Capital Bond Development Act for vocational technical centers, was imposed without debate at the end of lengthy session.

Democrats told newsmen the Republican minority was expected to make a floor fight during the amendment stage to restore about $10 million to higher priority locations for the proposed center.

The highest priority locations were Alton, Sandwich, Pekin, Danville, Wheaton and Duplo. Next were Carmi, Watseka, Lithfield-Hillsboro, Kewanee, Joliet and Freeport.

Another $16.5 million cut scuttled plans for four new prisons at sites to be selected.

Director Peter Bensinger, of the state Department of Corrections, testified that it would be a mistake not to provide the money for these prisons. Most of the funds would come from the controversial Capital Bond Act.

Sen. Terry Bruce, of Olney, chairman of the Democratic task force screening Ogilvie's budgets in the Senate, said $300,000 would be provided to continue planning for the prisons.

Bensinger pointed out seven public hearings were held in several communities in May and June to determine the best locations for the community-related prisons. He said 99 witnesses were heard.

Bensinger said Illinois has prisons more than 100 years old, and the new Vienna prison was the first built in the state in 50 years.

The $1.45 billion budget for the Department of Public Aid suffered a $3.4 million paring, mostly through elimination of the $2.3 million budget for an auxiliary planning agency, the Institute for Social Policy.

In the Agriculture Department, the committee sliced out $3.5 million. This cut included $1.5 million from the capital bond act to build an animal diagnostic laboratory at Kewanee.

Another Agriculture Department reduction of $1.6 million applied to meat and poultry inspection funds.

The task force outdid Ogilvie's recent proposal to eliminate some state grain inspection functions in Chicago only. The task force action eliminated the entire Division of Grain Inspection, including downstate work, and its budget of $944,500.

Bruce said the task force arranged Department of Agriculture funds to add $140,196 reinforcement to the state Division of Warehouse Inspection, beleaguered because of the increasing number of bankrupt grain elevators. Bruce said the action was aimed at forestalling failures of elevators, like two in his district that recently caused losses of more than $700,000 to farmers.

FINAL RITES HELD FOR RAYMOND PRYE

Funeral services for Raymond C. Prye were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Cody and Son Memorial Home with the Rev. Ronald C. Colton officiating. Organist was Mrs. Arthur Hecker.

Pallbearers were Bill Doyle, Rex Fearneyhough, John Johnson, Arvell Knapp, Dean Strubbe and Lloyd Wilson. Burial was in Memorial Lawn cemetery.
